ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The National Dialogue Planning Committee (NDPC) is indebted to Basotho representing over twenty sectors of the society, who diligently and wholeheartedly deliberated various national issues during the Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue (MSND) held at Manthabiseng Convention Centre on the 25th to 27th November, 2019. Over eight hundred representatives who took part in the dialogue were a reflection of how ready Basotho are, to collectively work on their differences for the good of the country.

The Committee extends its gratitude to His Majesty King Letsie III, for his inspiring and guiding message which instilled hope, commitment and courage to forge forward into making Lesotho a better place for current and future generations.

The Committee acknowledges the support rendered to it by the Government through its Ministerial Sub Committee on Reforms and the Technical Team.

The role played by the National Leaders Forum (NLF) in the preparation of material for presentation to Plenary II deserves special recognition.

The people of Lesotho are highly indebted to the Southern African Development Community (SADC) for the facilitation role it continues to play in the reforms process.

The Committee further acknowledges the support and role played by development partners in Lesotho, especially the European Union (EU) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

The Committee is also inspired by the dedication shown by the National Leaders Forum Subcommittee in the synthesis and simplification of the Expert reports on the seven thematic reform topics. This was a true indication of the subcommittee's understanding that nothing of national importance could happen without requisite sacrifices.

Special gratitude goes to the team of National and International Experts, without whose sterling collective contribution this report, would not have been possible.

The NDPC wishes to express its sincere gratitude to everyone who contributed to the successful hosting of Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue Plenary II and looks forward to the implementation of the decisions and resolutions of Plenary II.

The following members constitute the NDPC:

1. Hon. Samuel Rapapa
2. Mr. Chaka Ntsane

3. Mrs. 'Majoalane Thafeng
4. Ms. Liteboho Kompfi
5. Ms. Mamello Morrison
6. Ms. Lebohang Ramohlanka

FOREWORD

The structure of the final NDPC report from Plenary II deliberations is a collation of the thematic reports that were distilled by Experts from all the dialogue reports from Plenary I, from In-District Consultations, from the Diaspora Consultations and from all written submissions that came from various sectors of society. This compendium that comes in seven separate thematic chapters contains the essence of the reform agenda as articulated by joint sittings of all stakeholders that were identified by the NDPC as representing the cross-section of Lesotho society.

The report is supported by annexures, which are the written material from which it was synthesised. It is also supported by the raw reports which are verbatim records of statements that were made at village level and in the Diaspora consultations. All these will be available as reference material that may be tested for authenticity.

The experience that the individual and collective members of NDPC gained over the period of their assignment is invaluable. As a microcosm of Basotho society, they experienced the same challenges that bedevil the socio-political arena in which the country has languished for the last fifty years and more. These were however, overcome due to three main factors:

- a. the commitment of the government of Lesotho to devote the necessary resources amidst trying economic and financial circumstances;
- b. the dedication of the development partners to render support even in the face of resistance that could derail the reform process;
- c. the unwavering resolve of the SADC Facilitation Team to succeed against all odds, and
- d. the consciousness of the members of the NDPC to the hope of Basotho in the villages that the reforms would bring positive change in their livelihoods.

All these were underpinned by a strong message of encouragement from His Majesty, King Letsie III.

All Basotho whose pronouncements form the content of this report and its annexures deserve no less than excellent service in the Implementation of the reform agenda. Kindly take note that that Security Sector Chapter has been presented differently due to the fact that various agencies are involved in the said sector.

The Paris Principles, 1993

The United Nations Paris Principles provide the international benchmarks against which National Human Rights Institutions (NHRIs) can be accredited by the Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions (GANHRI).

Adopted in 1993 by the United Nations General Assembly, the Paris Principles require NHRIs to:-

- Protect human rights, including by receiving, investigating and resolving complaints, mediating conflicts and monitoring activities; and
- Promote human rights, through education, outreach, the media, publications, training and capacity building, as well as advising and assisting the Government.

The Paris Principles set out six main criteria that NHRIs require to meet:

- Mandate and competence – a broad mandate, based on universal human rights norms and standards;
- Autonomy from Government
- Independence guaranteed by statute or Constitution;
- Pluralism
- Adequate resources; and

Adequate powers of investigation.

THE GUIDING PRINCIPLES OF THE JUDICIARY

(The spirit of the Constitution)

1. In exercising judicial power the courts of law shall be guided by the following fundamental principles:-

(a) Judicial authority is derived from the people and vests in and shall be exercised by the courts and tribunals established by or under this Constitution.

(b) Supremacy of the Constitution of Lesotho, rule of law and the separation of powers;

(c) Rectitude and integrity;

(d) Judicial independence and judicial accountability;

(e) Justice shall be done to all, impartially and without bias;

(f) Justice shall not be delayed;

(g) Sanctity of human rights and freedoms;

(h) Recognition of inherent dignity and worth of all human beings;

(i) Justice shall be administered without undue regard to procedural technicalities;

(j) Courtesy, decorum and civility;

(k) Purposive and benevolent interpretation of the Constitution and the laws;

(l) Compromise and reconciliation between parties shall be promoted at all times;

(m) Basotho values of humanity, peace, love and brotherhood;

(khotso khaitsele ea Moshoeshoe – moro khotla ha o okoloe mafura – Basotho chabana sa khomo – Toka ho sera le motsoalle.)

The list is not exhaustive

SECTION 118 (2) OF THE CONSTITUTION 1993, be replaced with a similar clause of Section 165 of the Constitution of South Africa 1996:

"Judicial Authority

- (1) The judicial authority of the Kingdom of Lesotho is vested in the courts;
- (2) The courts are independent and subject only to the Constitution and the law which they must apply impartially and without fear, favour or prejudice;
- (3) No person or organ of state may interfere with the functioning of the courts;
- (4) Organs of state, through legislative and other measures, must assist and protect the courts to ensure the independence, impartiality, dignity, accessibility and effectiveness of the courts;
- (5) An order or decision issued by a court binds all persons to whom it applies, and to organs of state to which it applies.

Annexure 'D'

21. Equality and freedom from discrimination.

(1) All persons are equal before and under the law in all spheres of political, economic, social and cultural life and in every other respect and shall enjoy equal protection of the law.

(2) Without prejudice to clause (1) of this article, a person shall not be discriminated against on the ground of sex, race, colour, ethnic origin, tribe, birth, creed or religion, social or economic standing, political opinion or disability.

(3) For the purposes of this article, "discriminate" means to give different treatment to different persons attributable only or mainly to their respective descriptions by sex, race, colour, ethnic origin, tribe, birth, creed or religion, social or economic standing, political opinion or disability.

(4) Nothing in this article shall prevent Parliament from enacting laws that are necessary for—

(a) Implementing policies and programmes aimed at redressing social, economic, educational or other imbalance in society; or

(b) Making such provision as is required or authorised to be made under this Constitution; or

(c) Providing for any matter acceptable and demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society.

Affirmative action in favour of marginalised groups.

32 (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Constitution, the State shall take affirmative action in favour of groups marginalised on the basis of gender, age, disability or any other reason created by history, tradition or custom, for the purpose of redressing imbalances which exist against them.

(2) Parliament shall make relevant laws, including laws for the establishment of an equal opportunities commission, for the purpose of giving full effect to clause (1) of this article

38. Enforcement of rights.

Anyone listed in this section has the right to approach a competent court, alleging that a right in the Bill of Rights has been infringed or threatened, and the court may grant appropriate relief, including a declaration of rights.

The persons who may approach a court are-

- (a) Anyone acting in their own interest;
- (b) anyone acting on behalf of another person who cannot act in their own name;
- (c) anyone acting as a member of, or in the interest of, a group or class of persons;
- (d) Anyone acting in the public interest; and
- (e) An association acting in the interest of its members.

CONCLUSION

There cannot be a better way of providing legitimacy for a reform process than ensuring direct participation of the citizenry. In Lesotho, direct participation of the citizenry in public affairs is provided for through Section 20 of the Constitution. This report has resulted from deliberations at the Multi-stakeholder National Plenary II held at the 'Manthabiseng Convention Centre from the 25th to the 27th November 2019. It has been divided into seven chapters in line with the same number of sectors that have been earmarked for reform. These chapters as follows:

- Chapter 1: Constitutional Reforms
- Chapter 2: Parliamentary Reforms
- Chapter 3: Security Sector Reforms
- Chapter 4: Justice Sector Reforms
- Chapter 5: Public Service Reforms
- Chapter 6: Economic Reforms
- Chapter 7: Media Reforms

Generally the reform options provided in this report vary in nature and time required to implement them. Some options are administrative while others are legislative. The former will need to be implemented by various government ministries and the latter by Parliament. To be successfully implemented, some options require moderate modification, while others call for a drastic overhaul of the status quo. While some reform options require a short period, some can only be implemented over a long period.

Members of the SADC Secretariat Team here present

Ladies and gentlemen

Ha ke its'alo, ha e mpe ebe ke le hlomphele bohle bo-Ntate le bo-Mme, molemong oa nako.

It was only on the 23th of August, 2018, during what was to be known as the Second National Leaders' Forum (NLF) that the leadership of this country met to discuss in earnest, the way forward for instituting overarching national reforms. It was during that forum that the leaders resolved to establish a multi-stakeholder National Dialogue Planning Committee, now popularly known as the NDPC, to serve as the leadership's executive arm in the implementation of the first phase of the reforms process.

I have to admit that, at that time, some of us had no idea how the process was going to unfold. All we all knew and were quick to agree upon, was the need for gazettelement of both the membership of the committee and the various components of the reforms programme, hence the birth of the National Reforms Dialogue Act No. 6 of 2018.

Now, twelve months down the line, we are here, at this historic milestone, where we have in our hands, a clear mandate from the people, on what we need to do to achieve lasting peace and prosperity in the Kingdom. It is most heartening to look around and note that, as we celebrate this auspicious moment, we do so in the august company of our brothers and sisters, friends and colleagues from the SADC region.

Excellencies, your presence here today is a clear indication of the importance that you attach to attainment of true peace and stability in our country and will not go unnoticed. This noble and most honourable gesture dictates that we renew and reaffirm our commitment to carrying the momentum through to the establishment of the National Reforms Authority and ultimately legislation of the wishes of the people into law, policy and day to day practice and procedure, as the case may be.

Ho uena Ntate Ramaphosa, e le uena mokena-lipakeng e moholo oa SADC, re lakatsa hore rea leboha. Re leboha ha u ile ua re fa Moemeli ea hloahloa, oa boemo ba Ntate Moseneke. Ha le bua moo le leng bang, kea tšepa u tla u qoqela hantle hore na Basotho ke batho ba joang. O ithutile rona hantle, oa re tseba, joalo feela kaha le rona re ithutile eena.

On behalf of the Opposition in Parliament, I wish to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to SADC leadership and membership for the patience and support extended during the trials and tribulations we faced on our road to this point. Needless to say, there is still a long way to go towards full implementation of the proposed reforms. We however wish to pledge full commitment and support to the process regardless of which side of the Speaker's chair we will be sitting in the next few days.

The Reforms process, according to me, remains a process of introspection. Introspection on the ideals of who we are as a nation. We must remain true to the ideals of our Founding Father. We must be inhabited by the spirit of Moshoeshoe I, as our Founding Father.

The problems that confront us as a nation must teach us one thing; that we are sailing across the ocean and we are in a sinking ship. We are in a forest together; a forest that is on fire. It is up to us to act together or we shall perish together.

We, today's Leadership, have the responsibility and an obligation to deliver safely, to future generations, a Lesotho that is a sovereign state, that has freedom, that has strong institutions of governance, that is peaceful and stable, that has a stable, prosperous national economy, that has a patriotic, disciplined, responsive, corruption free and apolitical public service, that is hired and promoted on merit; a Lesotho that will be united, caring and God fearing; a Lesotho that is safe and secure for all who live in it. We owe this to ourselves and to future generations.

In conclusion, I wish to thank all the Leadership of this country, the UNDP the EU, the United States and all development partners and organisations that have stood side by side with us on this difficult and demanding journey.

Last but not least, I wish to thank and congratulate the NDPC for the commendable work they have done in executing their mandate as expressed in the National Dialogue Act, 2018. We know it was not easy, but you did it.

Congratulations Team NDPC!!

Bahlomphehi ba ka, Bo-Ntate le Bo-'M'e kea leboha.

Molimo o boloke Motlotlehi Rabasotho.

Molimo o boloke boetapele bohle ba sechaba.

Molimo o boloke Lesotho le Basotho.

ANNEX III: REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY, PRESIDENT CYRIL RAMAPHOSA, SADC FACILITATOR

Let me start off by associating myself with the standard protocol of the Kingdom of Lesotho which has been ably observed by the speakers before me. For the sake of time, let me pay my respects to:

Your Majesty King Letsie III

Representatives of the Government of the Kingdom of Lesotho

Representatives of SADC, both Summit Organ;

Executive Secretary of SADC;

Members of the Official Opposition and Political Parties;

Religious Leaders and Members of the Faith Groupings;

Traditional Leaders;

Representatives of Civil Society;

Distinguished International Partners present;

Ladies and Gentlemen;

It is a great honour for me to be part of this long-awaited final Plenary of the Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue on national reforms. Allow me at this moment to express my gratitude and appreciation to all of you; irrespective of your political and other affiliations for having reached this stage of the reforms process.

I would also like to extend my appreciation and thanks to our International Partners, in particular, the United Nations Development Programme and the European Union Delegation Office in Maseru for accompanying us throughout this journey.

I also applaud the Facilitation Team led by Retired Deputy Chief Justice Moseneke, who despite his busy schedule, made time to engage with all of you in order to forge a way forward on how we could work together towards the "Lesotho We Want".

The SADC Summit Heads of State and Government which took place in the United Republic of Tanzania in August 2019; applauded the Government of the Kingdom of Lesotho and all relevant stakeholders for demonstrating commitment to the national reforms and progress achieved thus far.

The Summit was impressed with progress made in the facilitation process and deemed it appropriate for the Facilitator to take the process to its logical conclusion. In this regard, the Facilitator is expected to give a report to the next Summit which is scheduled to take place in Maputo, the Republic of Mozambique in August 2020.

Bo Mme le Bo Ntate

To all of us, this Second Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue Plenary is important in many ways. It is a critical milestone in forging a political consensus on the multi-sectoral national reforms and reconciliation in the Kingdom of Lesotho. Indeed, this marks a historical moment in the Kingdom of Lesotho.

The Plenary provided the opportunity for all Basotho to dialogue, engage, and reach consensus on all identified areas of reforms, including constitutional, parliamentary, judiciary, security, public service, media and economic sectors. The choice of the seven thematic areas targeted for reforms ably captures the significant interplay between the political, social, and economic determinants impacting on stability.

The past fifty years' experience of Lesotho's independence has made Basotho to understand how difficult it is to achieve the socio-economic development and prosperity without political stability and vice versa.

The success of this Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue Plenary further demonstrates the commitment of Basotho on achieving their chosen path of the "Lesotho We Want." Thus far, you have demonstrated that no obstacles and difficulties you encounter along the way will succeed in reversing the gains you have already made.

Most of you would agree with me that the journey to reach this stage has not been an easy one. It involved putting aside political differences, sacrifices, patience, tolerance, and the spirit of give and take which this august house demonstrated. This coming together is a testimony of that cooperation and commitment to the common good and destiny for the Kingdom of Lesotho.

At this juncture, I am certain that Basotho and the outside world are watching with keen interest and disbelief, while others are wondering as to whether this is happening indeed.

I encourage you to maintain the brotherhood and sisterhood spirit that prevailed during your engagements in the various National Leaders Forums whose achievements led to this august ceremony today.

Bo Mme le Bo Ntate,

We have convened here because of the hard work performed by the numerous leaders' forums which ultimately gave birth to the National Dialogue Planning Committee (NDPC). Accordingly, the NDPC played a critical administrative role for the convening of subsequent First Plenary and the Second one which is concluding its work today.

The reforms process needed dedicated and committed people to deliver such excellent outcomes. The team was tasked with the responsibility to listen and solicit the concerns, opinions and views of all Basotho about the future of their Kingdom. This happened throughout the length and breadth of the Kingdom, covering all the districts, involving all the sectors, as well as Basotho in the diaspora.

I therefore wish to commend the NDPC for the dedication, commitment and hard work to the reforms up to this point.

The role played by the Non-Governmental Organisations in assisting the NDPC to conduct the in-district and diaspora consultations should also be acknowledged and appreciated. In the same vein, the work done by both the local and international experts' cannot be underestimated.

We should also recognise the role played by experts and the Lesotho Council of Non-Governmental Organisations for putting together all reports that formed the basis of your discussions in the last two days of this Plenary.

Bo Mme le Bo Ntate

I am delighted to know that you have agreed on the National Reforms Authority as the body that would ensure the implementations of the reforms beyond the Second Plenary. It is of great importance that all stakeholders rally behind the National Reforms Authority in executing its mandate.

In this regard, I wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to His Majesty King Letsie III for giving Royal Assent to the National Reforms Authority Bill in order to operationalise the mechanism of implementing the resolutions and decisions of the Second Plenary.

In conclusion, I wish to reassure you of my continued commitment in accompanying you in your quest to finding a lasting solution to your challenges. This I will do in line with the mandate accorded to me by the SADC Heads of State and Government as the SADC Facilitator to the Kingdom of Lesotho.

I encourage all Basotho to remain resolute in ensuring that the foundation laid today for peace, stability and development in the Kingdom is jealously guarded. As the people of the region, we know that when this Kingdom rises, the whole of the region and Africa will also rise.

Basotho have spoken and now is the time for both the National Reforms Authority and Parliament to finally deliver on their aspirations which have been eloquently articulated throughout this National Dialogue Process.

Lastly, I would like to wish you a Happy Christmas and prosperous New Year.

Khotso! Pula! Nala!

Ladies and Gentlemen

It is with a deep sense of humility and gratitude that I stand before you today to deliver brief remarks at this landmark occasion. The National Reforms terrain has been long, arduous and certainly not without challenges. The journey which began in 2012 is only coming to fruition seven years later. Uncertainties and suspicious clouded the genesis of this reforms process. We had to climb mountains and cross the rivers of despair to come this far.

You will recall that following the 2017 National Elections, His Majesty's Government resolved to prioritise National Reforms that are transparent and inclusive. We did so with a view to changing our political and security trajectory. We may wish to recall that the political landscape in Lesotho has historically been characterized by varying turbulence, with some Parliaments not being able to finish their five year constitutional terms. Relations among Politicians and our Political Parties have been rocky while security challenges had become part of us. All these factors underlined the need for Lesotho to urgently change course.

Today, the conclusion of our National Dialogue process had dawned upon us. Over the past two days we have had intense and yet fruitful discussions on what options are available to give effect to what Basotho have said they want. I am delighted about the significant progress that we have made. The long meetings that we have held over the past year and the attendant sacrifices that we have made have not been in vain. As we leave this hall, we shall do so with joy and confidence that the National Reforms Authority has a clear mandate to turn the desires of Basotho into reality.

Excellencies,
Ladies and Gentlemen,

On the 25th November, 2018 His Majesty King Letsie III stood on this very spot and charged the first plenary to undertake this reforms journey with sincerity, mindful of the duty bestowed upon its participants to contribute to a Lesotho that Basotho would indeed be proud of. It is, therefore, befitting to recognise all the efforts and inputs made by different stakeholders, from the ordinary Mosotho in the village through participation in the public engagements, to the tireless efforts made by the organisations and individuals who made the whole process feasible.

Your Majesty, you will be happy to hear that Your subjects have been consulted both in Lesotho and in the diaspora. Although best efforts were made to reach Basotho wherever they were, some still courageously travelled long distances, while some endured harsh weather conditions to participate in the public consultations. Various expertise was engaged to work on the submissions in order to capture the essence of the numerous submissions. Thus, Final decisions have been taken in this Second Plenary based on those inputs.

We are a nation founded on Peace and unity. Our Great Founder, King Moshoeshoe I, built Lesotho on a foundation of consensus, peace and diplomacy. Even as we move forward with implementation of the reforms, let us do so with brotherly and sisterly love and with understanding and compassion. We owe it to our Country, People and Leaders, to unify Basotho and lead this country to prosperity. As we do so, let us take inspiration in the Devine Book which says "Ntlo e itoantsang e fetoha lesupi" – which is translated "A house that is divided cannot stand".

Sechaba sa Thesele,

It is with great joy that we are all gathered here today, exactly one year after the first Multi-Stakeholder National Dialogue Plenary, to celebrate an important milestone of our National Dialogue Reforms Process. Today's historic event marks yet another significant achievement in our collective efforts towards building a new Lesotho that we will all be proud of.

Over the past year, Basotho from all walks of life participated with enthusiasm in this dialogue exercise. They came together motivated by a strong sense of patriotism to offer ideas and views that could help to build the Lesotho that We Want and Deserve. Basotho, both in Lesotho and in the diaspora, spoke with a clear and loud voice on their aspirations and desires for the Lesotho they Want. Therefore, the right thing to do now and in the days ahead, would be for those who have been entrusted with the responsibility to implement the reforms, to faithfully translate those views and aspirations into reality. Let me remind you of a popular Latin idiom that says "Vox Populi Vox Dei", which means "the voice of the People is the voice of God."

This day or this event will hopefully go down in the annals of history as the day or event that opened a new path leading to lasting peace, stability, freedom and prosperity for every Mosotho. Through this event, and subsequent processes that will follow, we are demonstrating our determination to recapture or regain our reputation as a Nation of peace. And in so doing, I hope we will stand together, shoulder to shoulder to build a country that will be the envy of the world – a Lesotho that future generations will be proud to call their home.

Excellencies,

Ladies and Gentlemen,

When we began this journey two years ago, divisions and differences among us as a Nation were very glaring because of deeply entrenched political polarization. The security situation in Lesotho was precarious, causing some of our country men to flee their homes and seek refuge across the border. Many had little hope that meaningful progress would be made. I would be dishonest if I said all of those problems have now gone away, because they haven't. But, we should all take a moment to thank the Almighty for the laudable strides that have been made so far despite these well-known and well documented challenges. If it were not for His Grace, we would not be where we are today. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the entire Basotho Nation and its Leadership for their patience, commitment and resolve to stay the course.

The support and leadership that the Government has provided to the dialogue process is worth special commendation. It is common knowledge that through the help of the Southern African Development Community (SADC) and with the cooperation and active role of the Government, some Leaders who had sought refuge in other countries for political reasons returned home in due time and took part in the Reforms Process. As we move forward, I wish to assure you of my Government's full commitment to ensure that all Basotho who still remain outside the country for security and or political reasons, return home to take part in building a new Nation and country.

My sincere gratitude also goes to SADC for their unwavering support to us during those times of trial and tribulation. The commitment that our fellow SADC Leaders demonstrated towards a peaceful and secure Lesotho, has not gone unrecognized. Many SADC Countries have not only contributed financially to our course, but have also contributed sacrificially by deployment of military and civilian personnel to help calm the situation in Lesotho. At this juncture, allow me to recall, with sadness, that during the deployment of the SAPMIL contingent, two precious lives of SADC soldiers were lost in the line of duty while in our country. To the families and countries of the said personnel, we wish to take this opportunity to offer our deepest condolences.

In the same vein, I wish to thank President Cyril Ramaphosa and the SADC Facilitation Support Team, under the leadership of Retired Deputy Chief Justice Moseneke, for their continued engagement in Lesotho. In the true brotherly spirit, consistent with the principle of good neighbourliness, you dedicated and committed your time and resources to the Lesotho National Reforms Process. We wish to assure you that your efforts have not been in vain. This engagement has no doubt led to the deepening of friendship, respect and love between our two countries and people.

It would be remiss of me not to thank our Development Partners, particularly the United Nations and the European Union, for their financial support to our Reforms Process. In particular, we commend them for acknowledging that the Reforms belong to Basotho and that it is Basotho who have to decide on the kind of “Lesotho They Want”, and they did this honourable act by agreeing to support us without any conditions. It is our sincere wish that the cooperation and friendship between the United Nations, the European Union and Lesotho will continue to flourish.

Equally, we are grateful to the National Dialogue Planning Committee (NDPC) for diligently guiding the National Dialogue Process. Yes we know that mistakes may have happened along the way, but your commitment and dedication to the task has been beyond reproach. As you go back to your previous duties and occupations please draw comfort from the knowledge that the Nation owes you a huge debt of gratitude.

The Government Technical Team, under the leadership of the office of the Government Secretary, also did a sterling job. Let us not forget that this team was formed at the very conceptual stage of this process. It is this Team that gave birth to all the reforms processes and structures that we have today. Despite many challenges in the execution of their duties in the reforms, these Public Officials remained onboard. Their sacrifices and dedication to contributing to a new Lesotho shall remain indelibly printed in our hearts.
